STATUTORY AUTHORIZATION

Title 22, Chapter 2, Montana Code Annotated 1987

22-2-101. Montana Arts Council established. In recognition of the increasing importance of the arts in the lives of the citizens of Montana, of the need to provide opportunity for our young people to participate in the arts and to contribute to the great cultural heritage of our state and nation, and of the growing significance of the arts as an element which makes living and vacationing in Montana desirable to the people of other states, the Montana arts council is hereby created as an agency of state government.

22-2-106. Council duties. The duties of the council shall be:

- (1) To encourage throughout the state the study and presentation of the arts and stimulate public interest and participation therein;
- (2) To cooperate with public and private institutions engaged within the state in artistic and cultural activities, including but not limited to, music, theatre, dance, painting, sculpture, architecture, and allied arts and crafts, and to make recommendations concerning appropriate methods to encourage participation in and appreciation of the arts to meet the legitimate needs and aspirations of persons in all parts of the state;
- (3) To foster public interest in the cultural heritage of our state and expand the state's cultural resources;
- (4) To encourage and assist freedom of artistic expression essential for the well-being of the arts....

INTRODUCTION

The Montana Arts Council encourages the expansion of opportunities for all Montanans—regardless of age, sex, race, place of residence, income or physical condition—to create, participate in and appreciate all the arts. The council strives to convince all Montanans that the arts and creativity are precious natural resources that we must preserve and promote.

The State of Montana, celebrated for natural resources, recognized its precious human treasures when it created the Montana Arts Council on January 19, 1967, and charged the agency with promoting and supporting the state's diverse arts, artists, and cultural organizations.

From the very beginning, the Council proved a persistent and innovative proponent for artistic resources. Within the state, Council programs such as Artists in Schools/Communities, Governor's Awards for the Arts, First Book Award, and Montana Folklife Project exposed Montanans to their artistic and cultural heritage. Organizational grants, fellowships, technical assistance, and networking nourished both individual artists and arts/cultural organizations.

Outside the state, the Council played key roles in establishing the Western States Arts Federation, attracting out-of-state artists to Montana, and introducing Montana's world-class artists to the nation and beyond. Based on population, Montanans consistently win a disproportionately high percentage of NEA fellowships and grants. Montana artists surpass those from other states in per capita representation in regional and national exhibitions. Montana's reputation on the national arts scene now far exceeds its size, and the Council serves as a model for other state arts agencies.

The Council's earliest commitment—to serve the people of Montana with programs and assistance that distribute arts and culture broadly—has benefitted virtually every Montana community with one or more Council program or grant. The unprecedented growth in Montana arts activities over the past 20 years testifies to the Council's impact on Montana's cultural life. Montanans fiercely love Montana, and our love springs partly from the quality of cultural life in our communities. We are proud of the vigorous role the Montana Arts Council has played in the state's cultural life, and we look forward to a flourishing future.

HISTORY

1965: Congress passes the National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities Act providing a one-time grant of $25,000 to each state for launching a state arts agency; Governor Tim Babcock by executive order signed April 22, 1965, creates the Montana Arts Council.

1966: The 24-member Council uses its first $12,500 grant from the National Endowment for the Arts to conduct a 56-county survey of the state's cultural resources and reports its findings and recommendations to the Governor.

1967: The Fortieth Montana Legislature enacts House Bill No. 12, creating the Montana Arts Council as a 15-member executive agency of state government and prescribing its powers and duties.

1968: The state makes its first General Fund appropriation to the Council: $25,000 for the fiscal year 1967-68 biennium; from an office in Missoula, the Council also applies for, receives and disseminates $70,894 in federal funds for the same biennium.

1969: The Council launches its Artists-in-Schools/Communities program with creative writing residencies.

1970: The Council hires its first salaried executive director.

1971: The Council initiates a peer-review panel process for its grants, broadening participation.

1972: The Council adds visual arts to its Artists-in-Schools/Communities program and contracts with a community-development expert to conduct town meetings in every Montana community.

1973: The Council adds film/video to its Artists-in-Schools/Communities program.

1974: With a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Council hires the first director for its Artists-in-Schools/Communities program; the Council also contracts to conduct a "Survey of the Arts" in Montana.

1975: The Council initiates a 30-minute monthly TV program, "Creel," featuring Montana artists and broadcast over the MTN network; the Council also begins producing a radio program, "Off the Wall," which airs nationwide on National Public Radio.

1976: The Council contracts an Indian cultural coordinator.

1977: Montana and Minnesota co-author the federal-state study on policy planning, adopted by the National Council on the Arts.

1978: The Council adds theater and dance to its Artists-in-Schools/Communities program; the Legislature creates Montana's Cultural Trust Fund, which a decade later is providing approximately $600,000 per year in grants to arts and cultural organizations.

1979: Montana Folklife Project begins when the Council hires the first state-sanctioned folklore coordinator in the nation; the Council also hires a full-time community arts coordinator and launches its First Book Award and Community Bookshelf programs.

1980: The Council begins its ArtistSearch telegram/newsletter program.

1981: In cooperation with the Governor, the Council announces its first Governor's Awards for the Arts; the Folklife Project completes work on its first phone album, "When the Work's All Done This Fall"; Eastern Montana College publishes its "Directory of Montana and Wyoming Foundations," revealing few stable independent funding sources for Montana's arts and cultural organizations; Council surveys indicate that expenditures by non-profit cultural organizations rose 250 percent in the last seven years.

1982: The Council adds music to its Artists-in-Schools/Communities program and begins its Individual Artist Fellowship program.

1983: The Legislature enacts a Percent-for-Art bill which funds artwork for public buildings; the Council begins administering Cultural Trust grants and helps launch the Regional Writers Project.

1984: The Legislature caps the Cultural Trust Fund; the Council moves its offices to Helena.

1985: Montana Rep. Pat Williams becomes Chair of the House committee which oversees the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities; Montana drafts rural arts initiative legislation which is adopted by Congress.

1986: Local government support for art centers shrinks 14.5% in fiscal 1986-87; the Council co-sponsors a Cultural Congress in Billings and coordinates its first Congressional Arts Caucus exhibit; out-of-state panelists join Montana artists for the first time on peer-review panels awarding Council grants to the state's artists and arts/cultural organizations.

1987: Local government support for art centers shrinks an additional 12.3% in fiscal 1987-88; the Legislature enacts an art consignment law protecting artists who consign their work to dealers; a Council study indicates 4,700 artists working in Montana earn about $25.2 million a year, with 46.5% earning less than $1,000 per year and the other 53.5% earning average annual incomes of only $9,945, a third of

1988: The Council estimates that local government support for art centers will shrink another 15.4% in fiscal 1988-89 and initiates an in-depth evaluation of its granting process.

1989: The Legislature, recognizing the importance of stable, diversified funding for its non-profit organizations, funds twelve arts/cultural organizations through Cultural and Aesthetic Projects Grants to create a total of $1.2 million in endowments; the Council now administers more than $1 million in grant funds on a tight administrative budget ($84,400 in the last biennium); according to Council figures, approximately 500 non-profit arts/cultural organizations and historical museums have a $10 million impact on Montana's economy each year, including sales income of approximately $7 million by 119 private art galleries.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

ORGANIZATIONAL SERVICES

Director, William B. Pratt

Grants to Organizations

This program provides annual financial assistance to music, dance, drama, visual arts, media activities and special projects. By regranting monies (mainly from the National Endowment for the Arts), the Council matches local funds and in-kind contributions for a variety of projects including tours, performances, exhibitions, technical assistance, and special projects. Recently, grants to community theaters, symphonies, art centers, and similar organizations have averaged $2,000, although applicants may also qualify for "Immediate Action" grants during the year depending on the emergency nature of the request and availability of funds. Organizational grants are available to non-profit organizations and units of government.

Cultural and Aesthetic Projects Grants

Every two years the Legislature appropriates and the Council administers grants based on a percentage of the projected interest income from Montana's Cultural Trust. For the current biennium, these grants average $20,500 each and total more than $550,000 annually. Units of state, county, local or tribal government may apply on their own behalf or on behalf of cultural organizations for Special Projects, Operational Support, Capital Expenditures, and Challenge Grants for Endowment Development. A 16-member citizens' committee appointed by the Council and the Montana Historical Society review applications and recommend funding to the Legislature.

Underwriting Assistance

Montana communities—especially small, isolated ones—can apply for "courage" money to sponsor performances and workshops of professional quality by touring performing arts companies. The program provides a community up to $400, pending actual proceeds from the event.

Networking

The Council works hard to foster the exchange of information and ideas on statewide, regional, and national levels. By supporting statewide groups such as the Montana Art Gallery Directors Association, the Montana Performing Arts Consortium, the Montana Dance Arts Association and the Montana Institute of the Arts Foundation, the Council encourages constituents to share skills and resources. By maintaining contact with out-of-state arts and cultural agencies and by actively participating in regional and national organizations such as the National Endowment for the Arts and the Western States Arts Federation, the Council maximizes, publicizes, and coordinates benefits available to Montana residents.

Special Audiences

The Council emphasizes programs that reach Montanans not regularly served by the arts, especially elderly, handicapped, institutionalized, low-income, and ethnic and racial minority communities. The Council offers information on handicapped accessibility to arts/cultural facilities and events and has surveyed Native American arts and needs.

Technical Assistance

Using teleconferences, correspondence, printed materials, workshops and on-site visits, the Council staff develops, strengthens and expands community arts and cultural organizations. The Council offers technical assistance by an arts administrator and certified public accountant who specialize in non-profit management: budgeting, planning, organizational and program development, personnel management, fundraising, board development, media relations and legal issues.

ARTISTS SERVICES

Director, Julia A. Cook

Artists in Schools/Communities

The Artists in Schools/Communities program integrates working artists into the daily activities of schools and communities for one-week to ten-month periods. Students, teachers and community members observe and work with artists. Residency programs offer first-hand creative experiences for students, teachers, and other participants; professional support for artists; educational assistance to teachers and administrators; diversity in existing curricula and/or programs; and stimulus for the surrounding community.

Services to Education

The Council supports efforts in the state to advance the quality and availability of arts education. Through active cooperation with the Office of Public Instruction, Montana Art Education Association, Montana Music Educators Association, Montana Alliance for Arts Education and the Task Force for Arts and Humanities Education, the Council supports expanded arts education in Montana. In addition, the Council administers a visual arts competition for high school students, selecting one work for display with art from throughout the U.S. in an exhibition sponsored by the Congressional Arts Caucus in Washington, D.C. The Council also places student artworks in the Washington offices of Montana's congressional delegation.

Individual Artist Fellowships

The Council's Individual Artist Fellowship program recognizes, rewards and encourages professional artists in Montana who demonstrate excellence, creativity and artistic skills. The program accepts applications in all artistic disciplines and announces awards each July.

First Book Award

On a biennial basis (even-numbered years) the Council sponsors a competition for Montana writers of poetry or short fiction who have not had a separate volume of their work previously published. The award provides for publishing, distributing and promoting the winning submission.

Governor's Awards for the Arts

The Council, cooperating with the Governor, sponsors an annual award program to recognize outstanding artists and organizations or individuals who have made significant contributions to the arts in Montana. The Governor proclaims Montana's Week of the Arts each January. Nomination forms, available from the Council upon request, are accepted in April of even-numbered years.

Percent-for-Art

In 1983, the 48th Montana Legislature enacted a law providing that, "subject to legislative allocations, ...capital project appropriations by the legislature shall include, as a part of the appropriation, an amount not to exceed 1% of the amount appropriated for the use of the Montana Arts Council for the acquisition of art for new state buildings...." The Council administers ongoing competitions to commission and purchase works of art for state-funded building and renovation projects.

MONTANA FOLKLIFE PROJECT

Director, Michael Korn

Montana reflects its folk cultures, as rich as they are diverse, in miners' and cowboy songs, fiddle tunes, Indian legends, the design of barns and fences, the foods and rituals at traditional celebrations. Folk cultural influences help form our heritage and shape our future. They thrive in our families, occupations, ethnic groups, tribes, neighborhoods and communities.

With support from the Montana Cultural Trust, the

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Council in 1979 initiated a project to identify, document and publicize various forms of the state's folk culture. Since then, the Montana Folklife Project has supported research, radio programs, phono recordings, statewide festivals and exhibits of its own while helping local communities conduct their own folklife field work and projects. In addition, the Folklife Project cooperates with Montana's historical and higher-education institutions in folklife-related efforts.

Today more than 4,000 color slides, 3,000 black-and-white photographs and 140 reels of tape recordings—some gathered in conjunction with the U.S. Library of Congress American Folklife Center—form the Council's Montana folklife collection.

INFORMATION SERVICES

Director, Kathleen Burt

ArtistSearch

Serving individual Montana artists, the Council's computerized system provides information tailored to more than 1,200 artists' individual interests. By completing a questionnaire, any artist can receive monthly bulletins about competitions, job openings, workshops, Council application deadlines (Artists in Schools/Communities, Percent-for-Art, Individual Artist Fellowships, First Book Award, etc.) and other opportunities according to his/her interests. The Council also makes lists and mailing labels of these artists available to individuals, organizations and businesses upon request.

Constituent Database

The Council maintains a computer database of more than 3,000 arts organizations and individuals interested in the arts, categorized according to particular characteristics such as artistic discipline, location, and type of organization. In addition to providing crucial information to other program directors, this data base also contains funding histories of grantees and allows the Council to track precisely where and how much money was distributed throughout the state. These lists and mailing labels, available to the public, can be tailored to any user's needs.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS 1987-1988

Organizational Services

- Directed a state-funded ($10,400) evaluation process in which eight independent evaluators will provide in-depth review of 16 Cultural and Aesthetic Projects grants, with a final report to be submitted to the 51st Legislature.
- Administered $1,113,417 in 56 Cultural and Aesthetic Projects grants for fiscal years 1988-89.
- Administered Council grants to organizations totaling $70,615 in fiscal year 1987 and $78,583 in fiscal year 1988.
- Administered Immediate Action grants totaling $4,650 in fiscal year 1987 and $8,245 in fiscal year 1988.
- Assisted five non-profit organizations in developing a pilot project, the Helena Non-Profit Investment Group, which enables non-profit organizations to pool their short-term cash and earn interest rates 1-2 percent higher than they could receive individually.
- Established a new category of special project grants ($4,500 or less) from the Cultural Trust, featuring simplified application forms, to target Montana's small communities.
- Established an S.O.S. grants program which ties emergency grants to technical assistance.
- Helped found the Montana Community Foundation, which will manage endowments and re-grant funds to non-profit organizations.
- Co-chaired a state task force on arts, humanities and aging (which transmitted its report to the Governor's Task Force on Aging) and conducted the Council's first systematic study of arts and aging in Montana.

Artists Services

- Artists in Schools/Communities program recruited 9 percent of its participating artists from racial or ethnic minority groups in fiscal year 1988. Thirteen percent of all participants were racial or ethnic minorities. Minorities comprise only 6 percent of the state's total population.
- Placed 54 artists in 105 schools and an additional 16 communities in fiscal year 1988, reaching 18,911 students and 16,296 community participants. Of those residencies, 17 (approximately 14 percent) involved Indian reservation sponsors or schools with high Indian student populations.
- Awarded 10 individual fellowships in fiscal year 1988, more than ever before.
- Attracted 750 participants to the 1988 Governor's

ACCOMPLISHMENTS 1987-1988

Awards for the Arts banquet, twice as many as any previous ceremony.

- Completed and published annual anthology of students' creative writing and a 20-year retrospective catalog of the Visual Artists in Schools/Communities program.
- Published a visual arts curriculum guide for individual school districts in conjunction with the Montana Alliance for Arts Education, the Montana Office of Public Instruction, the Montana Art Education Association, Arts and Humanities Task Force, Western Montana College, 12 school districts and two universities.
- Completed installation of artwork at two sites (Fish, Wildlife and Parks regional headquarters at Bozeman and Great Falls) as part of the Percent-for-Art program, and published and distributed guidelines and application materials for two new Percent-for-Art installations (Fish, Wildlife and Parks regional headquarters at Kalispell and Billings) approved by the 1987 Legislature.

Montana Folklife Project

- Responded to 47 requests for technical assistance in fiscal years 1988-89 and devoted more than 250 hours in staff time to those requests.
- Devoted more than 200 hours in staff time in 1988 to plan, publicize and participate in the Elko (Nev.) Cowboy Poetry Gathering, with four Montanans officially invited and 30 others attending to take part in open sessions.
- Helped with production, mailings, publicity and participant selection for the Montana Cowboy Poetry Gathering in Big Timber, which for the first time in 1988 reached 4,500 in attendance and paid for itself.
- Submitted 7 articles on Montana's folk arts and artists to state and regional publications.
- Cooperated with the Lolo National Forest to establish an interpretive facility, including a visitor's center and primitive-skills center, at the Ninemile Remount Depot in Huson.
- Identified and documented traditional artists through field interviews.

Information Services

- Acquired three additional Macintosh computers and a letter-quality printer (all made available by the Western States Arts Federation) to allow the Council to prepare most publications in-house.
- Expanded the databases of organizational granting histories to include Cultural and Aesthetic grants.

- Worked with local arts organizations and Apple Computers to establish a statewide computer network.
- Published 10 issues of ArtistSearch, a newsletter distributed to 1,200 Montana artists, in 1988.
- Completely updated its mailing lists by distributing more than 2,000 information forms to Montana artists and purging outdated information.

General Agency Accomplishments

• Made substantial progress toward its target of $50,000 in contributions for the Governor's Awards for Artists fund by selling art from the Governor's private collection for $35,000.

• At the request of the Montana Department of Commerce, coordinated a much-publicized exhibit in downtown Tokyo of more than $1 million in artwork by Montanans.

• Invested more than $10,000 in direct costs and more than 300 hours in staff time to a full day of technical-assistance workshops for 200 participants at Montana's Cultural Congress in Billings, September 1987.

• Devoted approximately 200 hours in staff time to the Fort Peck Fine Arts Council's successful $50,000 grant application to the National Endowment for the Arts to staff and develop a regional rural arts agency.

• Reorganized Council committee structure along program lines to involve Council members more directly in staff activities.

• Updated the Council's in-house libraries of technical-assistance materials by adding approximately 60 titles.

• Increased the number of press releases, articles, and profiles submitted to local, regional, and national publications by more than 10 percent.

• Cooperated with the Montana Department of Commerce in collecting information about primary cultural organizations and cultural funding in the state, which information the state then used to prepare its bid for US WEST's proposed high-tech core research facility.
